Dayton Old Timers Picnic

From Dayton Centennial 1880-1980 booklet, article 33 written by Sheila Henry in 1979.

“The first annual Old Timers Picnic in the Dayton City Park began in 1934. It was a day set aside for all Dayton residents to renew old friendships and make new ones. The picnic began as a town-wide potluck with all participants contributing to one main table.

Throughout the years, the gathering has become a time of family reunitions, and class reunions where old timers continue to gather. This tradition is still continuing after 45 years (note... at time Sheila wrote this, it was only 45 years, now it's 80 yrs!).

In 1980, the Old Timers Weekend was coined in order to celebrate 100 years of incorporation for the City of Dayton. Events such as a parade and chicken barbecue highlighted the Saturday and Sunday affair. The Old Timers Picnic may prove to be one of the longest running events in Dayton's history.”

2014 addendum:

Nowadays, the Old Timers Picnic is a tradition spanning 80 years, and continues to be held the last Sunday in July. Sponsored by the City and Dayton Volunteer Fire Department, the fire volunteers put on a delicious chicken barbeque dinner, and strawberry shortcake dessert.

All Dayton residents are invited to be a part of this great event.

What is Historic Preservation? Why is it Important?

"It has been said that, at its best, preservation engages the past in a conversation with the present over a mutual concern for the future." -- William J. Murtagh, first Keeper of the National Register for Historic Places

Historic preservation is so much more than protecting our old buildings or historic districts. It's about sharing our past with future generations. It tells the story of who we are and where we came from so that current and future generations will have a deeper understanding of our community and culture. Preservation has many rewards, including fostering civic pride and beauty, strengthening our local economy, education and creating an appreciation of our local and natural history.

"These old buildings do not belong to us only, they belong to our forefathers and they will belong to our descendants unless we play them false. They are not in any sense our own property to do with as we like with them. We are only trustees for those that come after us." ~ William Morris (1834-1896) artist, philosopher and political theorist was one of the most outstanding and influential designers of the Arts and Crafts Movement.

In this time of community rejuvenation, let's remember our roots and feel grateful for our area's Century Farms, our City's beautiful Courthouse Square Park, our historic homes and historic commercial buildings. These are all gifts given to us by the citizens that came before us and, if cared for, will be treasures we can pass along to future generations.

Design Committee Hard at Work

The Downtown Dayton design committee and local artists are working to bring additional beauty to our community. Soon you'll see artistically decorated wine barrels placed around the downtown to be used as planters. Be sure to keep an eye out!

"Design" is one of the four focus points of the Main Street Program™. "Design enhances the attractiveness of the business district. Historic building rehabilitation, street and alley clean-up, colorful banners, landscaping, and lighting all improve the physical image of the downtown as a quality place to shop, work, walk, invest in, and live. Design improvements result in a reinvestment of public and private dollars to downtown."

The community of Dayton is working with Yamhill County Public Health and Dayton School District in planning for a potential School-Based Health Center (SBHC). A SBHC is a primary care clinic on school campuses, offering a variety of services; potentially including: primary care, mental health, substance abuse, counseling, case management, dental health, nutrition education, health education, and health promotion. As a part of the planning process, a planning committee has been formed in order to put together communication events, represent the community of Dayton, and discuss what's best for the community and our youth. The planning committee would like to invite you to join this group as we pave the way towards building the Dayton School-Based Health Center. Sidewalk Project on Ferry from 5th to the Elementary School Crosswalk

The City is working on an Intergovernmental Agreement with the Oregon Department of Transportation (ODOT) in which ODOT will provide funding for the construction of a sidewalk on Ferry Street from the corner of 5th Street due west to the Elementary School Crosswalk. Part of this stretch of road is alongside a deep ravine, so the sidewalk portion near the ravine will have railing in order to increase the safety of this pathway to school. The City hopes to have this project completed before the 2014-2015 school year begins in September.

Springs Project

The City is in the final stages of the Springs Rehabilitation Project. The Watershed Springs are back online as a water resource for the community. The City is finishing up some controls work that will allow Public Works staff to see and control the springs remotely.

Andrew Smith Park

The City Council recently renamed 11th Street Park to Andrew Smith Park in honor of Andrew Smith, who was a cofounder of the City of Dayton along with Joel Palmer. The City will be holding a ribbon cutting at the park sometime this summer, so stay tuned for more information on that.

LED Street Lights

The City Council has approved PGE to change the City's street lights to LED's. This will result in both reduced energy usage and cost for the City. PGE has begun the process of changing the lights out.

Meet Our New Mayor

Dear Fellow Dayton Residents and Business Owners,

You may have heard about some changes at the City Hall over the last few months and I want to provide some information to the community, especially during this time of transition, so we can all be more aware of policy and position updates.

Our hard-working Mayor resigned as of January 2014 after seven years of excellent service to Dayton. We have taken several steps forward during Jolie White's time in office and I hope to help continue making progress. That brings me to the purpose of this initial letter.

We have a new Mayor! I, Beth Wytoski, was appointed by our City Council in February, to complete Jolie's term, running through December 2014. I am honored to serve Dayton in a new way and I look forward to working with our Council, staff, business owners, and most importantly, our residents, to find ways to improve livability without losing the "Dayton factor" that keeps us all here.

A little background on me: I am a third generation graduate of Dayton schools (2002–Beth Overgard), and I love my small town! I attended the University of Oregon (2002-2006) where I earned a Bachelors degree in Political Science, focusing on legislative procedure, public policy, and local and state government structure. I also earned Minors in History and Music and played trumpet in the Oregon Marching Band all four years I was enrolled.

During and after college I worked for the Recreation Department of the City of Eugene while I attended Pacific University (2007-2008) to earn my Masters in Teaching and my Oregon teaching license. After a couple years of working in Eugene schools in different capacities, I wanted to come home to student teach in Dayton. In 2008 I married my wonderful husband, Chris, who agreed to move to Dayton with me.

Earning the family nickname "Gov" at the age of 16, I have a history of public service including several leadership positions from high school Student Body President, to Public Safety Advisor.

In college, in addition to working on a few campaigns, I also worked in the state legislature and have a strong understanding of how "the system" works.

Elected to the City Council in 2008, I was subsequently appointed Council President in 2013.

My focuses while in office are many but my primary concerns are:

- Improving the reliability and delivery of our water
- Expanding community involvement and empowerment
- Encouraging economic development
- Advancing our public safety goals through sidewalk construction and the continuation of police services.

I plan to continue communicating through this newsletter to provide updates on city projects, plans, activities, and other announcements. If you have specific questions or comments you would like to share with me, feel free to contact City Hall to schedule a time for discussion. You could also come find me at one of the upcoming Dayton Friday Nights.

I hope to see you there!

Mayor Beth Wytoski

Dayton is Cleaner!

Thank you to the city and the awesome Eagle Scouts for their efforts at the recent City Wide Clean Up! And thank you to the 11 volunteers who turned out in the wet weather to help at the DCDA Adopt a Highway Clean Up, and to the The Block House Cafe for the free coffee that fueled their efforts!

Fearless leaders of the highway pickup, John Francis and Caye Poe, report that the group found nine tires in the bushes near a new house and the usual myriad of cups, beer cans, etc. Volunteer Richard says: "we did find a couch that had been thrown off the Palmer Creek bridge but our grabber was not up to lifting it up and out!"

If you would like to participate in future clean-up, please contact the City or DCDA at www.daytonoregon.org.

In the meantime, remember to do your part to keep our community beautiful. Small efforts such as mowing grass and weeds, removing unused items from the yard and picking up trash where you see it will make a world of difference.
